

British Volleyball Federation (BVF)

The British Volleyball Federation (BVF) worked closely with Scottish Volleyball to prepare the application to UK Sport Aspiration Fund and are excited about the benefits of this project to the local community and the role it will have in introducing more people and families to our great sport in an inclusive and affordable way.

The President of British Volleyball Federation, Richard Callicott, is delighted to see this project come to fruition:

‘The project Sand for Schools is a wonderful example of the visionary thinking of Scottish Volleyball and its desire to give the best opportunity for the people of Edinburgh and Scotland to both try the sport in a community setting but also to create a facility for Scottish Beach Volleyball players to train and create a pathway for young talent to achieve their potential. It is through schemes such as this that young people can not only be introduced to the sport but for it to be another opportunity to get active. I am sure that with the Commonwealth Games coming in 2022 this facility will greatly aid Scottish Volleyball’s chances of doing really well. The social impact of this project thanks to UK Sport’s support, will I hope, be followed by others.’
